4. FUNDS WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURE

The withdrawal procedure at BRIDGEMARKETS LTD detailed below follows strict principles to ensure that the funds are sent back to their originating source.

- a. BRIDGEMARKETS LTD customers must complete a signed paper or digital withdrawal request containing inter alia, their correct account information.
- b. The withdrawal form must be submitted to the BRIDGEMARKETS LTD FX Finance department for processing. The Finance department will do the following:
 - confirm the account balance
 - confirm that the account is approved, and the provided documents are up-to-date
 - verify that there are no holds or withdrawal restrictions on the account
 - verify that the original funds are being withdrawn through the same method of deposit and to the name of the account holder on file
 - examine the withdrawal request against the customer's deposit history, to ensure that there is no suspicious activity
 - For money laundering, the client cannot withdraw his capital without having traded at least 50% of his capital or without first having purchased a financial product with the company since this broker is regulated and this would be seen as money laundering.
- c. If there is no mismatch or suspicious activity, the Finance Department will approve the withdrawal and the funds will be released to the client.
- d. In the event that the Finance Department believes there was suspicious activity on the account, the Company's Anti-Money Laundering Compliance Officer (AMLCO) will be informed, in order to perform further investigation.
- e. If the withdrawal will be flagged for suspicious activity by the Company's AMLCO, then the withdrawal will be placed on hold and sent to the Company's Management.
- f. BRIDGEMARKETS LTD Management along with the AMLCO will decide if further action is needed and which, if any, relevant regulatory bodies need to be contacted.

Please note that your trading account must be verified, in order for the withdrawal to be processed.

- BRIDGEMARKETS LTD is required to comply with the AML/CTF Act To assist governments in combating money laundering and terrorist financing activities, as a registered brokerage firm we are required to obtain, verify and record all information regarding the identity of persons opening an account and monies deposited with our company.
- BRIDGEMARKETS LTD has an internal AML/CFT prevention program that is based on risk assessment to meet the objectives of the AML/CFT Act. For this reason, we would like to mention some aspects in which we are involved when we receive a deposit from a third party since internally, we have the notation that this deposit is claimed as yours.

- 1- We would like to remind you that by AML policies, deposits must be assigned to the person who performs this action and in the same way they must be withdrawn in the same way and form that they have been deposited in the Broker.
- 2- Third party or underlying client accounts that are requested must be under an IB link and must pass the company's regular KYC process.
- 3- Due to Money Laundering policies we are not allowed to process a withdrawal of a capital that has not been moved in any of our Broker's service portfolios.
- 4- Between the first and the twenty-fifth day of each month the Broker is subject to a random audit by the regulator; if this entity notices irregularities in your account we would be subject to an unnecessary audit and this would slow down our current growth process as a Broker that wants to enter the Latin American market.
- Clients who make a deposit equal to or exceeding $15,000 via bank transactions or cryptocurrencies will have the opportunity to initiate periodic withdrawals. These withdrawals will allow clients to extract 33.3% of their current trading account balance every 30 days. It is essential to highlight that these withdrawal procedures are subject to the Anti-Money Laundering (AML) withdrawal policies established by the broker. These policies ensure the security and legality of financial transactions, thereby aiding in the preservation of the financial system's
